DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of claims 9-14 as anticipated by United States Patent Number (USPN) 3,919,157 to Ide et al., hereinafter 'Ide', is maintained for the reasons previously made of record in item 2 on page 2 of the Office Action of May 30, 2006, hereinafter 'OA'.

Response to Arguments

The 35 U.S.C. 102 Rejection over Ide (item 2 of OA)

2. Applicant's arguments in Response with respect to the 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of claims 9-14 as anticipated by Ide have been fully considered but are deemed unpersuasive.

Applicant's argument regarding Ide not disclosing a composition encompassed by instant claims is incorrect. Ide in col. 1, lines 46-69 discloses a composition comprising an organopolysiloxane; a polybutadiene or styrene butadiene rubber (both diene rubbers); a terpolymer of styrene, methyl methacrylate and acrylonitrile (which is, of course, a copolymer of (i.e., comprising) styrene and acrylonitrile); and a graft of said terpolymer and said diene rubber. Accordingly, the instant claims read on Ide.

In response to Applicant's arguments that Ide does not disclose the instant claimed composition in the experimentals and that the composition of the instant claims is not a preferred embodiment in Ide, it has been held that a prior art document is relevant for all the disclosure that it contains. Examiner respectfully addresses Applicant's attention to MPEP §2123 entitled "Rejection Over Prior Art's Broad Disclosure Instead of Preferred Embodiments", section I:

"The use of patents as references is not limited to what the patentees describe as their own inventions or to the problems with which they are concerned. They are part of the literature of the art, relevant for all they contain." In re Heck, 699 F.2d 1331, 1332-33, 216 USPQ 1038, 1039 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (quoting In re Lemelson, 397 F.2d 1006, 1009, 158 USPQ 275, 277 (CCPA 1968)). ... A reference may be relied upon for all that it would have reasonably suggested to one having ordinary skill the art, including nonpreferred embodiments. Merck & Co. v. Biocraft Laboratories, 874 F.2d 804, 10 USPQ2d 1843 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 493 U.S. 975 (1989). See also Celeritas Technologies Ltd. v. Rockwell International Corp., 150 F.3d 1354, 1361, 47 USPQ2d 1516, 1522-23 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (The court held that the prior art anticipated the claims even though it taught away from the claimed invention. "The fact that a modem with a single carrier data signal is shown to be less than optimal does not vitiate the fact that it is disclosed.").

Thus, the claims are anticipated by Ide.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
